

“I think that it is important that children’s views are listened to so if I was asked to take part in another project I think that I would take part especially as I enjoyed doing it. I really enjoyed being part of this project.”¹

¹ Quote from one of the children who participated in the research, taken from Whiting (2009)